The Lantern 1946

Lambuth College,
Jackson, Tennessee

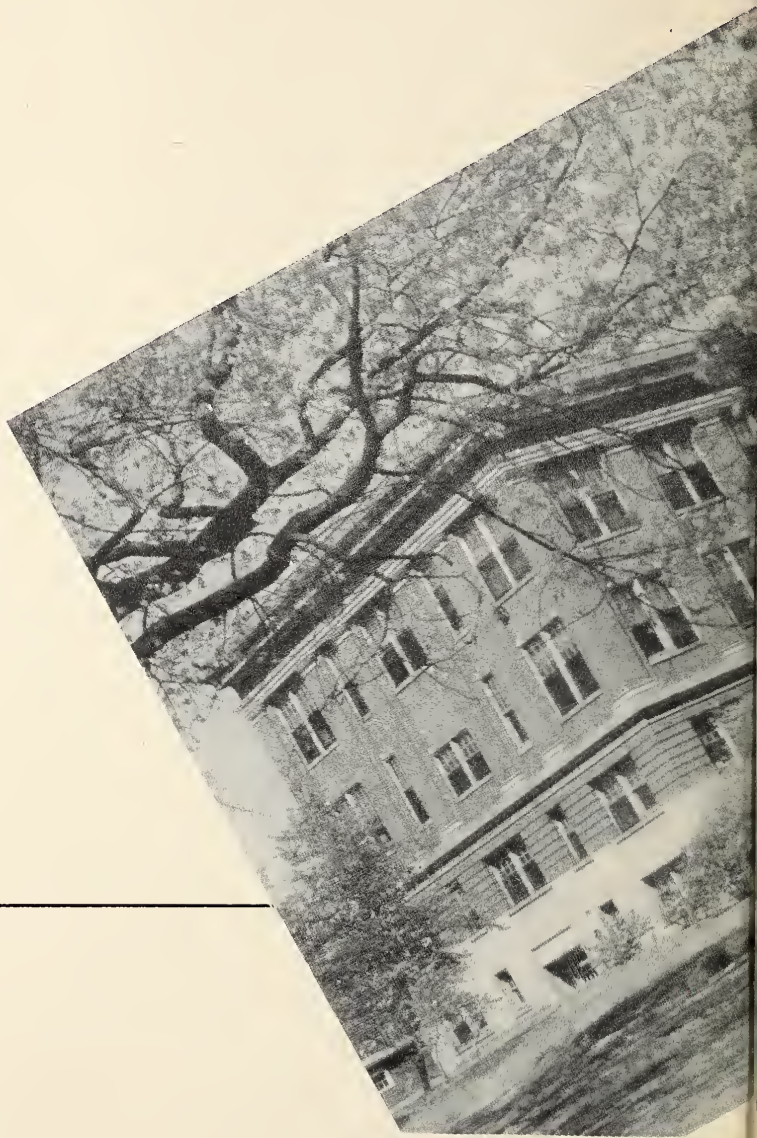

With the coming of Peace in the summer of 1945, Lambuth College prepared to open its doors for a greater September enrollment and something of a new era. The years of war had made themselves firmly recognizable on the campus, but September, 1945 proved to be a brilliant example of the traditional strength and power of the institution. A larger enrollment than Lambuth had known since pre-war days registered the fall quarter and each quarter of the 1945-1946 session showed a marked increase in those who returned to Lambuth and those who were a part of the college for the first time.

Every person who is a part of Lambuth College is happy to acknowledge with undying gratitude the efforts of those who have represented our college in the war just ended. It is with a great deal of joy that we see many of them back on the campus. But with sadness we cherish the ardent hope, faith, love, purity, and loyalty of those who did not return.

As the staff of The Lantern worked to prepare this copy for you, we did not forget the greatness of the cause for which Lambuth College stands. It is our desire that this edition of The Lantern be an exemplification of the untiring labors of those who administer and those who receive the new experience of modern education here.

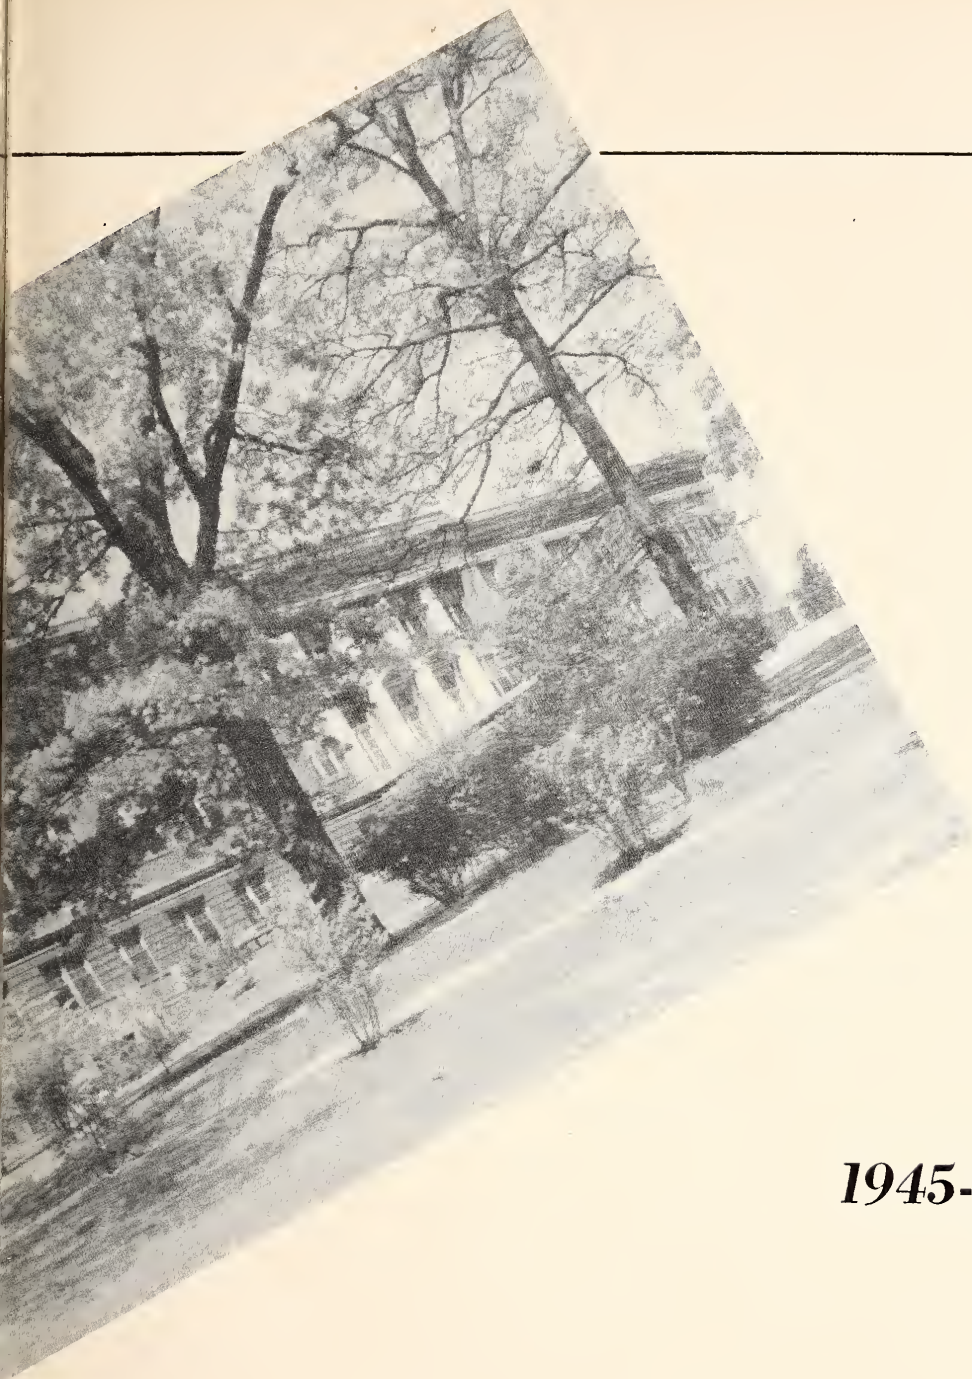

We have enjoyed preparing this edition of The Lantern. May it serve its purpose well!

MISS RUTH MARR

One of the most conscientious persons on our campus is one who has served many hundreds of students as they have come and gone from Lambuth College. Her accurate records, her willingness to serve every person on the campus, and her capability as an administrator merits the appreciation and devotion of all of the students and faculty members. In recognition of all she means to Lambuth—to MISS RUTH MARR, we are privileged to dedicate the 1945-46 edition of The Lantern.

R. E. WOMACK,
B.A., M.A., LL.D.

PRESIDENT

Dr. Richard E. Womack has become in the course of the short life of Lambuth College an inseparable part of all she has done in this section of the country. All of the honor, admiration, and appreciation of those whom Lambuth has served is based upon the untiring efforts of our president. The high standards of idealism which Lambuth has always cherished have been lived before us all in the character and personality of our chief administrator, whom we recognize as genuinely Christian and profoundly a part of all of the basic principles of higher learning.

The Deans

M. E. Eagle
B.A., M.A.
Professor of History
Dean of College

"Dean" as he is known to all Lambuth students is one of the outstanding personalities on the campus. He is always willing to help every person in light of his own particular needs. He is admirably fitted for the Dean's desk, possessing a personality and philosophy which is seldom equaled.

Emily Hastings Clark
B.A., M.A.
Professor of Social Science
Dean of Women

Mrs. Clark is an interesting person, well-fitted for the job as counselor and advisor to the women students. She is efficient, poised, and possesses a rare personality which makes her a friend to all of us.

A. D. Oxley
B.A., M.A.
Professor of Biology
Dean of Men

Mr. Oxley's unique philosophy as taught in his classes and in his personal contacts with the students has made him one of our most confident friends. In his kind and understanding manner he has become a definite part of Lambuth.

SENIORS

Having been a part of Lambuth for four years, the Senior Class of 1946 cannot leave without taking part of Lambuth with it. Due to the small enrollment during the war, personal contacts have not been what they might have been under normal conditions. It is the sincere hope of all that the high principles and strong character developed here may be seen by others wherever those students may go and in whatever occupation they may choose.

FRESHMEN

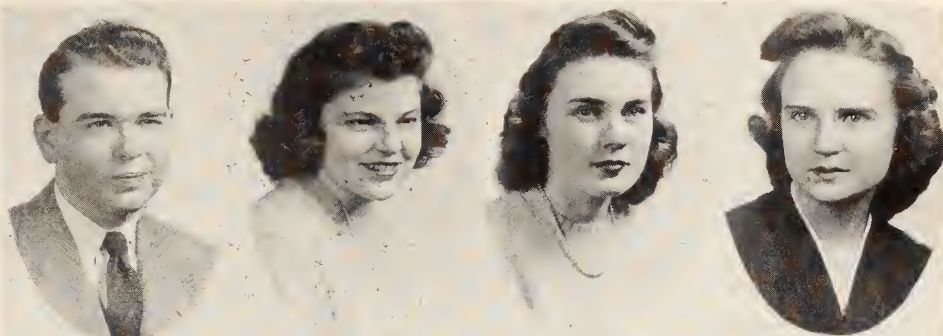

This year's freshman class grew from a good start to even a better finish, as throughout the year the original number was increased by a large number of returning service men. Boosting a range in size from the largest (McKinney and Looney) to the smallest (Walker and Toomey) the freshmen also have loads of talent that is sure to go places and do things in the next four years.

Wheatley—Why do all the boys call you “Sugar”?

Lancaster—Because I’m sweet, refined, and hard to get!

Warren Mac—Say, Ma Mac, how do you account for this piece of rubber I found

Ma Mac—Well, I’d say it just proves the motor car is replacing the horse everywhere.

Hood—Well, for once in my life I was glad to be down and out.

Graves—How come?

Hood—It was my first airplane ride.

Oxley—What’s a heifer? Is it a hog or a sheep?

Looney—To tell you the truth, I don’t know much about poultry.

Bolo—Did your watch stop when you dropped it on the floor?

Johnny—Sure! Did you think it would go through?

Dean Eagle—Tell me one interesting fact about the men who fought in the Revolutionary War.

B. Williams—They’re all dead!

Dr. McCain—Do you have the problem yet?

Dean Pettigrew—Yes’m, all but the answer.

Ma Mac—Why don’t you wash the dishes? It’s easier to do a thing than to sit Bob McLemore—Well, then, you wash the dishes, and I’ll sit and think about it.

FALL

Registration day brought a host of new faces to Lambuth. A larger Freshmen Class than had come to Lambuth for some few years livened up the spirit of the entire quarter. The horrors of Hell Week and the Royal Order of the "Woofum-Poofum" made the Freshmen appreciate the peace of the coming Christmas holidays. A skating party at Bemis brought tragedy when Warren Fesmire broke his leg, but the college met the situation with all the proficiency possible.

Practically all of our Christmas festivities has to be postponed because of an unusually prevalent epidemic of influenza on the campus and in Jackson. But the Fall Quarter held a serious note when we all became conscious anew of our unlimited responsibilities in helping to remake a Lambuth that necessarily had been lost in the war.

HARRELL TOWNSEND
Business Manager

With this our first peacetime session in four years the Lantern staff has tried to present an annual that will be worthy of all the people who tried to uphold the Lambuth tradition both here and on foreign fields. The Lantern did not go to press without many hard hours of work behind it but we feel confident it was well worth our time and effort. Both the faculty and students have been extremely considerate and to them we give our sincere appreciation.

Basketball

After a lapse of four years, basketball was resumed this year. The coach, Dr. Melzer, took a group of boys who had never played together, and by the end of the season had developed a good team. The interest in basketball has been revived. Next year, we are expecting great things from the team.
